FELIPE CAMARENA

Master Distiller

ArteNOM Selección de 1579
Jesús-María, Jalisco
(Mountain Agave, 6,788' Alt.)

The mountain town of Jesús-María is tequila's highest altitude agave region, and the El Pandillo Distillery is arguably one of the most forward-thinking and sustainable distilleries in the business. There, Felipe Camarena masterfully crafts this bright, aromatic tequila from stressed hillside agave plants, slowly roasted in brick ovens and macerated intact with fiber for a pronounced agave flavor.

SALVADOR ROSALES TORRES

Master Distiller

ArteNOM Selección de 1123
El Arenal, Jalisco
(Valley Agave, 4,199' Alt.)

The Rosales family produces ArteNOM Blanco Histórico in El Arenal, Jalisco at their renowned Destilería Cascahuín from lower-brix valley agave that are the hallmark of the Lowland tequila style: earthy, vegetal, and slightly peppery. This selección is barrel-conditioned for 21-28 days in brandy casks that previously held Oaxacan mezcal, such as high-end blancos from the Tequila Valley were sometimes prepared in the early 1900s.

SERGIO VIVANCO

Master Distiller

ArteNOM Selección de 1414
Arandas, Jalisco
(Mountain Agave, 6,709' Alt.)

Feliciano Vivanco has been cultivating highland agave in Arandas, Jalisco since Mexico's tumultuous post-revolutionary period of 1919-1929. The family's Destilería El Ranchito now holds approximately 2,000 acres of estate-grown agave for producing rich, well-balanced tequila made in traditional copper pot stills.

ENRIQUE FONSECA

Master Distiller

ArteNOM Selección de 1146
Atotonilco El Alto, Jalisco
(Mountain Agave, 5,541' Alt.)

Casa Tequilaña is owned and operated by the Arq. Enrique Fonseca, from Atotonilco El Alto, Jalisco. El Arquitecto is a fifth-generation agave cultivator and master distiller, celebrated for possessing one of the largest highland agave holdings in the industry. This selection is drawn from old French and American oak to create a unique complexity in this highland añejo Selección.
